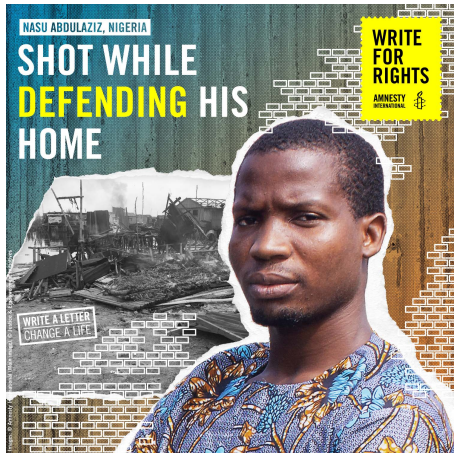
Nigeria: End Forced Evictions



Dear Governor,

Nasu Abdulaziz was 23 when men with guns and in bulldozers descended without warning on his community of Otodo Gbame, Lagos. Government must investigate this act of violence which resulted in the loss of numerous homes in the century-old community. Homes have been burned down, families have been shot at, tear gas has been used and livelihoods destroyed. 9 people are believed to have been killed, another 15 are still missing and 30,000 people have been left homeless.

Ensure a full investigation into the forced eviction of Nasu's community, make sure that everyone is resettled and given full compensation, and end forced evictions in Lagos.

Yours Sincerely,
