

CANADA: STOP BANKROLLING FOSSIL FUELS

To: Finance Minister Chrystia Freeland, Trade Minister Mary Ng, and Export Development Canada CEO Mairead Lavery

We are deeply concerned that Canada continues to bankroll fossil fuels, condemning millions of people to the life-threatening impacts of worsening climate change. We call on you to:

- Phaseout all fossil fuel exploration and production by 2030 - and ensure an immediate end to fracking and exploitation of oil sands, as these activities pose the greatest risk to the environment and human rights.
- Immediately end all support for projects, activities and industries that drive fossil fuel expansion in Canada and around the world.
